ABOUT ME

Junior UX Designer graduated from IT-Högskolan, with hands-on experience in user research, prototyping, UI design and usability testing. Before moving into UX, I spent 10+ years working with people, communication, coaching and leadership which has given me a strong understanding of people, communication and problem-solving.

I enjoy taking complex problems, understanding what people actually need, and turning those insights into clear and useful digital solutions. I'm particularly interested in the connection between research, interaction and visual design, and I enjoy working closely with developers and other disciplines to bring ideas into practice.
